Learn, Teach, Apply

The Area of Tension Between Research, Teaching and Design

Learn, Teach, Apply is the area of tension between research, teaching and design that has driven TwoPoints.Net since its foundation in 2007. Even though each field of activity follows its own destiny, the fields cross-fertilise each other. TwoPoints.Net students and clients and, of course, TwoPoints.Net employees benefit from this.

Continually questioning the status quo is a driving force to evolve and stay relevant. In the lecture Learn, Teach, Apply, Lupi Asensio and Martin Lorenz will give insights into their work and their working practices.
